Media Sales Executive – Bath & Surrounding Areas (Commission Only, Work from Home)

Are you looking for a side hustle or income top-up with generous commission (25% of all sales)? Crow Marketing is seeking a motivated Media Sales Executive to help grow the Raring2go! presence in Bath and surrounding areas. This is a flexible, self-employed role, working alongside the Editor to develop the area across digital and future print channels.

About the Role

- Sell advertising across digital platforms — including the digital magazine, website, and social media. The digital magazine is distributed to schools, giving advertisers strong local reach.
- Work closely with the Editor to build relationships with local businesses and grow the area's advertising potential.
- The New Year offers the opportunity to introduce a print edition delivered door-to-door to affluent areas, giving you potential to increase your earnings further.
- Work from home, although some local presence would be advantageous (not mandatory) for client visits as well as a monthly meeting with the Editor.
- Flexible hours during business hours — ideal if you want to work part-time or around family or other commitments.
- Commission-based role with generous rates — the more you sell, the more you earn.

Who We're Looking For

- Confident on the phone and able to start conversations with local businesses.
- Some sales experience is required; media sales experience is ideal, but enthusiasm and a willingness to learn counts.
- Local to Bath or surrounding areas.
- Self-motivated, organised, and able to work independently.
- Outgoing, personable, and keen to help SMEs grow their business.
- Basic understanding of marketing and digital advertising, and why businesses invest in it, is advantageous.

Why This Role is Great

- Work with a well-known brand and help establish a thriving local media presence.
- Flexible, self-employed role — perfect for those seeking a side hustle or top-up income.
- Full support from Crow Marketing and the local Editor — guidance, help with leads, and advice are provided.
- High-earning potential: generous commission rates paid monthly, and future print opportunities give room for even more income.
